

i-Hub Summit III webinar series
June 15–17, 2021

Your last chance to register

Discovering the sustainable pathways to affordable heating and cooling.

In just one week, AIRAH and the Innovation Hub for Affordable Heating and Cooling (i-Hub) will host the third instalment of our free online knowledge-sharing summit. These webinars bring together leading universities, researchers, consultants, building owners and equipment manufacturers – a connected research and development community.

These interactive sessions provide i-Hub leaders and participants with the opportunity to share information on the current projects, their progress, and key findings. Each session also includes time for Q&A.
